One good story brings on another and probably one confusing ailment brings two. Patti Forrest, our office aide, who finally found the definition of walking pneumonia comes up with a real honest to goodness ailment she said a fellow is suffering from. She said one of her friends, has a friend who has a friend who has high blood pressure on one side and low blood pressure on the other side. I was not able to determine whether the sides were top or bottom, front or back, or side by side.

A good story going the rounds during the last days of the general election is told about the great importance of making personal contact to get voters out to the polls.

Noble Gregory at the dinner meeting at Smith's Cafe the other night told this one.

A young man and young lady were madly in love with each other and were contemplating the fatal step to the altar. Just as plans were being made for the nuptials the young man was called overseas for a year's duty. But he comforted his loved one with the fact that he would buy 365 post-cards and write her one each and every day so that she could feel a personal contact with him on each of the long and lonely days ahead. So he went away!

Came time for his return and of course he was excited as all get out and much satisfied with the fact that his daily letters were real personal contacts with his bride-to-be.

On arriving home he found out that indeed his sweetheart was in the marrying mood with those personal contacts. On his return she was already married - she had married the post-man.

And election reminds us of the story Doc Beauchamp told about the loyal precinct worker who wanted to do everything he could to help his friend get elected.

Doc says that during the Clements - Dummitt campaign several years ago a precinct worker was told to go out and get a big vote for Earle Clements and the little fellow just went out and worked like mad.

Came election day and the votes were counted and the worker brought in the returns from his precinct. Earle Clements, 333 votes. Dummitt, 2.

Doc, who never fails to make a good story better, said that he was amazed at the returns and asked if Dummitt didn't have any more friends than that in the community. The worker replied that of course he had, but that Doc didn't tell him to get any votes for Dummitt.

Do you know that those little goblins who prowled on Halloween for UNICEF collected a total of $124 in pennies for the children's fund. Do you know that amounts to 12,400 pennies? And can you imagine what a job that was to count that amount of copper? And can't you just see Elva Fall making her way to the bank with all that cash? She did it.

It came you're in a riding and listening mood you might enjoy joining the motorcade of the First District on Friday and Saturday of this week. Ray Spicer and Ray Berry of Clinton, ardent Waterfield admirers said that they were going to make the trip and Ray says that he is going to bake a ham and fix up a big lunch for along the way and Ray is going to take a freer of ice cream and just crank up the old contraption all along the way.

Sounds like fun. If you want to go here is the schedule:

Their route and time Friday:

Health Department Is Guardian Of Community

Dr. Harrell gets blood test from school teacher Mrs. James McClay as part of the public school health program.

Bennett Wheeler looks as pained as his little daughter Kathy Lee while Nurse Mary Heinline gives booster shot.

Debbie and Kim Homra, children of Mr. and Mrs. David Homra watch their weight on health department scales.

Complete physical examinations too are part of the public health program undertaken by the Health Department.

SMALL SUPPLY OF POLIO VACCINE IS AVAILABLE HERE

Physicians Have Small Quantity For Private Use

Doctor J. F. Harrell, County Health Officer said this week there was a small supply of polio vaccine in the hands of the local physicians and that eligible persons could see their family doctor.

This vaccine, according to Doctor Harrell is separate from the National Foundation's free vaccine given in the first and second grades.

Boys and girls one through nine years of age are eligible for the immunizations, which if taken now, the doctor says, will be effective before the next polio season.

FULTON NEWS TO REPORT ELECTION RETURNS TUESDAY

As in elections past, the Fulton County News will bring complete election returns to Fulton citizens as soon as they are tabulated at the courthouse in Hickman.

A huge board placed in front of the News office will record the returns and a public address system will announce the returns as they are counted.

Plan to attend the News' election party on Tuesday night and get the election returns while they're news.

CATTLE SHOW AND SALE PLANNED AT MURRAY NOV. 7

4-H, FFA Boys Will Exhibit Cattle Raising

Area 4-H Club members and Future Farmers of America will climax their year's cattle raising enterprises with the Purchase District 4-H and FFA Fat Cattle Show and Sale at Murray next Monday, Nov. 7.

Young farmers from the Purchase are expected to enter more than 150 animals to vie for show honors and top sale prices.

The Kentucky commissioner of agriculture provides $7,000 to be divided among seven district shows on a per head basis. The Murray show will divide its proceeds share on a 1x, 2x and 3x basis which means the blue ribbon winners will get three times the prize money of white ribbon winners.

GOLD FEATHER WILL BE HONOR BADGE ON ELECTION DAY

A gold feather will be your badge of good citizenship on Tuesday. Members of a local non-partisan voters league will be at the polls all day Tuesday and as each voter goes to the polls and votes a gold feather will be pinned on the lapel to signify that they have exercised their American privilege.

Local officials and civic leaders will make regular rounds in down-town Fulton and the residential areas to watch the "gold feather brigade" and upon finding a person without a gold feather, they will personally urge them to go to the polls.

Plan on joining this worthwhile brigade on Tuesday. It is an honor society and you... as a good citizen... are eligible for membership.

Tennessee Residents, Voting In Kentucky, May Be Challenged

As a result of two county-wide meetings of precinct election officials held Tuesday the eligibility of many local voters may be challenged at the polls on election day. Under the auspices of the Fulton County Election Commission a meeting was held at the Courthouse in Hickman and another at the City Hall in Fulton, when Kentucky's election laws were studied by precinct election officials.

Considerable debate was devoted to the eligibility of voters who own businesses and property in Fulton, Ky., but who maintain permanent residences in South Fulton, Tenn. County Attorney Jerry Jones who conducted the Fulton meeting pointed out the law in this respect as follows:

"QUALIFICATIONS OF VOTERS: PERSONS DISFRANCHISED: Every citizen of the United States of the age of twenty-one years, who has resided in the State one year (Kentucky) and in the county (Fulton) six months and the precinct in which he offers to vote sixty days next preceding election, shall be a voter in said precinct and not elsewhere."

Mr. Jones made it clear that in communities where the State Line creates a division of residence and business location the law must be adhered to strictly. In connection with this phase of the Kentucky Statutes, Mrs. Kathryn Lannom, county clerk said: "The intention of the voter must also be taken into consideration. If a voter owns a business, or other property in Fulton, but permanently resides in Tennessee, that voter is not eligible to vote at the polls on election day."

"If, however," she added, "a voter is living in another state temporarily (and has not voted in that state) and intends to move back into Kentucky, then that situation must be taken into consideration and election officials should use their discretion."

The meetings were the first such meetings ever held in the county and proved of inestimable value to the officials who are confronted with many facets of the law on election day. With the rush of voters the law cannot always be complied with it was revealed. The open discussions clarified many heretofore confusing stipulations of the new and revised election laws.

TENSHUN! FOLKS MRS. ROBERTS IS FULL COLONEL NOW

Governor Sends Commission To Prominent Lady

It's Colonel Roberts, huh! Yassuh, a real sho' nuff southern colonel. . . . jus' luvs turn-up greens, 'n corn bred, and 'lasses, too. Only boss, wouldn't that goatee look a little funny on that lady?

Yassuh, Rastus, a goatee would look mighty funny on Martha Roberts (Mrs. A. B.) 'cause they just ain't many wimmin Kentucky colonels. And making her a real Southern Colonel is the fact that she was born in Georgia and moved to Kentucky and has been here ever since. But that's what Mrs. Roberts is now-days, since Governor Lawrence Wetherby has commissioned her a Kentucky Colonel. A life-long Democrat, Mrs. Roberts was recently named to the Fulton County Election Commission as the Democratic member of the three-member board. The other members are Sheriff John B. Rose and Fred Brady.

CLINTON THEATRE GROUP TO PRESENT PLAY AT WINGO

Mrs. Joe Johnson Expertly Directs "Night Must Fall"

"Night Must Fall," an interesting and highly entertaining three-act play will be presented in Wingo High School on the evening of Nov. 18, Mrs. Joe Johnson, director of the Clinton Little Theatre group said today. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Warren Thompson were in Fulton Wednesday and are extending a cordial invitation to theatre-goers to attend the play at Wingo.

A sneak preview of the play was presented in Fulton to the Drama Department of the Woman's Club on Oct. 18 and the skits were immensely enjoyed. Several local ladies have announced their plans to attend the Wingo presentation.

Admission to the play is $1.00 for adults and curtain time will be at 8 p. m.

Eminently qualified to play the parts they act are Mesdames Warren Thompson, J. M. Blair, John Miller, J. C. Bridges, K. E. Austin, Dr. John Miller, Bill Craddock and Joe Barker.

Fulton Gives Welcome To New Manager At Builders

John Willett has arrived in Fulton and has taken over active management of the Builders Supply, Inc., formerly Kramer Lumber Company. Builders Supply is a subsidiary company of McAdoo Builders Supply Company of Union City.

In the process of adding stock to the company, a formal opening is planned at an early date. Gene Robert McAdoo of Union City will also be engaged in the management of the local company.

On next Tuesday voters of Fulton County will be given the opportunity to pass a tax levy to secure funds with which to operate the Fulton County Health Department. The tax, twelve and one-half cents on each $100 of assessment is a small sum to pay when benefits to be derived from the services offered by the Health Department are considered.

This week-end a house to house canvass will be made by various local groups to solicit your support of the measure. Vote "Yes" for the Health Department's tax levy. It may mean the saving of many lives, including your own.

HARMONY, BIG VOTE ARE TOPICS WHEN DEMOCRATS MEET

Beauchamp And Gregory Make Urgent Appeals

Lt.-Gov. Emerson "Doc" Beauchamp, one of Kentucky's best known and beloved political figures was the principal speaker at an over-flow gathering of First District Democrats held at Smith's Rose Room Tuesday night. Beauchamp, with Congressman Noble Gregory and Mrs. Harry Lee Waterfield, wife of the Democratic nominee for lieutenant-governor, were guests of the Fulton County Democratic campaign committee.

Smith Atkins, local banker and county co-chairman was master of ceremonies and presided over the meeting when more than a hundred Democratic leaders from several West Kentucky counties joined in a harmony rally for the General Election on Tuesday.

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

Here are a dozen lighting tips which home lighting specialists recommend as a tonic for your home:

1. Install a smart looking lighting fixture in every room of the home. New fixtures are larger and more shallow for greater comfort and beauty.

2. Light back stairways, back halls, and other sometimes-forgotten places.

3. Put a light in every closet that is nine feet or more square.

4. Shade all bulbs and tubes from normal view.

5. Light-up the kitchen work areas in addition to lighting from the ceiling.

6. Use tall floor lamps (approximately 59 inches) close to high back or large scale chairs. They will look better just as lower lamps (about 58) are best with low back or small scale chairs.

7. Lamps similar in height or finish can be made to complement each other by use of matching lamp shades.

8. For the right-handed person, place desk lamps on the left and not more than 15 inches away from the work center.

9. Plain shades will look well when lamps are placed near figured draperies or near walls with paper of pronounced design.

10. Refresh a room by interchanging lamps now and then.

We've come a long way since the first farm homesteads wired for electricity and had only a bare light bulb hanging down from the center of the kitchen ceiling.

The modern farm housewife has learned that it's no longer necessary to work in her own shadow. In fact, since the average farm housewife spends

Plastic Wall Tile Now Guaranteed

In selecting the decorative scheme for a bathroom, one of the most important choices facing the homeowner is that of a suitable wall covering. Because color, durability, ease of caring for the selected material, and economy, are major considerations, plastic wall tile is high on the list of favorites with homeowners on all counts.

A redecorating job, however, is only as good as the materials and workmanship which go into it. Now, for the first time, it is possible to install plastic wall tile under a guarantee of satisfaction.

A leading supplier of the polystyrene raw material has just introduced a guarantee program for plastic tile and is being joined by other raw material suppliers and by most tile manufacturers.

This guarantee provides that the tile and the mastic (or adhesive) used must conform to the rigid quality requirements of the Commercial Standard, as set up by the U. S. Department of Commerce in cooperation with the National Bureau of Standards, thus qualifying homes in which plastic wall tile is used for FHA financing.

Significance to homeowners of a guarantee is evident in that it is impossible to distinguish good and poor quality tile by appearance alone. Differences in quality can be determined only by extensive laboratory tests such as those made by the Bureau of Standards. Thus, the homeowner wishing to install his own tile can protect himself against inferior products by requesting guaranteed materials.

As an extension of the guarantee program for homeowners who do not wish to install their own tile, it is now also possible to have a guaranteed installation of tile by the tile dealer. To qualify for this guarantee, dealers must follow installation procedures included in the standard, which are then certified to the homeowner through a legally enforceable guarantee certificate covering the entire job.

This guarantee carries the three-way backing of dealer, tile manufacturer, and raw material supplier, and the result is an installation of lustrous and durable plastic wall tile that can be depended upon to give lasting satisfaction.

more time in her kitchen than her urban counterpart, bright and cheerful lighting that seems to bring the sunlight indoors is even more important to her.

A good lighting job in the kitchen leaves no dark corners. Generously sized ceiling fluorescent fixtures provide overall lighting throughout the room. Besides the ceiling fixture, local lighting over the sink, range, and work tops are installed to give extra light for difficult seeing jobs.

Nature Cooperates With Fall Gardener

Nature is generous in the fall to home gardeners who work to beautify their property.

With the days bright and the nights cool, the fall rains work wonders with a new lawn or the patching of a spotty one. It is the season, too, for planting the early blossoming bulbs that will add color to the premises next spring.

Ornamental shrubs that are transplanted after their leaves yellow respond to fall weather. Conditions are favorable for rugged root growth.

Thompson Named

E. Kelly Thompson, who had been serving as acting president for the last several months, was named president of Western State College, Bowling Green, by a three to one vote of the Board of Regents.

Thompson succeeds the late Paul L. Garrett, who died after a long illness last winter.

The new president is a graduate of Western and has been associated with the college since he came to the school as a freshman from his home in Lebanon 27 years ago. He served as assistant to the president from 1946 to the time of Garrett's death.

FIRE SEASON

Fall is a beautiful season, in fact I think the most colorful and restful of them all; but fire can change a golden countryside to charcoal gray with very little effort on our part. True enough, fire is difficult to prevent in some cases, but they are more difficult to extinguish. Let's go through a few simple rules of on the farm protective measures.

First a fire lane is a must around the woodlot. It doesn't take long with a tractor to make a few rounds with a heavy disk or plow. This will assure your wooded area from most ground fires.

If you have sod fields near the road it would be a good idea to run a fire lane around the field especially by the road.

The little time you spend in building fire lanes and the sod you destroy will not be anything compared to the loss you will have if fire burns over the pasture. There is a lot of good feed on old sod fields yet and you could lose it in an hour's time. It would be a pretty good idea to run a fire lane around old houses that at some time or another are being used for grain or hay storage.

At this time of year there are a thousand jobs to be done before winter and you will say, "I'll get to that next week." When next week comes you might say, "I wish I had done that last week."

I would never burn a field

Home Remodeling Gains Importance In Building Industry As Trend Grows

Home modernization and remodeling is becoming an increasingly important phase of the building industry. People with older homes are anxious to remodel. It has become so large that remodeling is competing strongly with new buildings in volume. With this trend in mind, Practical Builder made its October edition a special residential, commercial, and industrial modernization issue. In an editorial, Harold H. Rosenberg, editor, publisher of Practical Builders, notes that

Dahlias Will Last If Handled With Care

Dahlias have been labeled as short-lived flowers after cutting. If they are handled properly, dahlias compare with other flowers in hardiness. Experts advise to pick dahlias with a withered petal or two. These petals may be removed, then you have mature blooms that will last. Cut dahlias in the morning or evening, after the heat of the day. Leave a stem slightly longer than you require. As each flower is placed in clean water in a container, cut off an inch or two of the stem while the stem is under water. This prevents air from being drawn into the stem's tubes, blocking the intake of water. Use a sharp knife in snipping the dahlias so as not to crush the water intake tubes.

IT'S OK TO INVESTIGATE HEREDITY OF MARRIAGE PARTNER, EXPERT ADVISES

Parents with children of marriageable age have the responsibility of investigating the heredity of their child's proposed marriage partner, declares the LSU Agricultural Extension Service. Recent research at the New York Psychiatric Institute has revealed that there is a strong hereditary influence in the transmission of schizophrenia. A full brother or sister of a person with schizophrenia stands a 14 per cent chance of developing the mental disorder. An identical twin stands an 86 per cent chance of developing the disease. This is in contrast to a one per cent chance for those whose families have never had a case of the disease. Schizophrenia is a disease in which the patient becomes disoriented. Such persons may lose their ability to estimate time, place or persons correctly. In some cases systems may develop in adolescence but development is sometimes delayed till later in maturity. Mental illness is not legal grounds for divorce in some states. There is evidence that a childhood or early adulthood marked by emotional stress between parents and children plays a part in developing this disorder in some children. What element in the parent-child relationship causes the harm is not known. Some children with a schizophrenic brother or sister have the ability to avoid developing the disease even in a home that puts emotional stress on them. The state recognizes the severity of the mental health problem and is striving to deal with it constructively. Louisiana is the first state to plan for building a center to house the Louisiana Society of Mental Health.

In 1954 there were 13.5 billion dollars spent for remodeling, maintenance and modernization, as compared with 14.2 billion dollars spent for new home construction. Publicity is helping the builders too. The US Chamber of Commerce is inaugurating a national program known as "Operation Home Improvement," and the National Association of Plumbing Contractors is planning an all industry campaign. Other articles in Practical Builder gives details on the home modernization trend. One story explains why it has become a 13.5 billion dollar business, listing 10 reasons:

1. Home ownership is growing.
2. Income, savings are growing.
3. Population is growing.
4. More than three quarters of US homes are outdated.
5. Many of these lack adequate plumbing, lighting and heating facilities.
6. Postwar homes need expansion.
7. New housing is not enough.
8. Loans are available through the FHA, various private groups.
9. A private, non profit organization, ACTION — the American Council to Improve Our Neighborhoods Inc., is backing the home modernization trend.
10. And it's an endless process—buildings always need repair and upkeep. OK, the market is there—but the builder needs promotion to really put his product over. Phil Shifrin of Sandra Engineers, Chicago, devotes an article in the October Practical Builder to the techniques of selling modernization to the homeowner. Mr. Shifrin believes in selling an idea and following through with a complete and thorough job. "Remodeling can't be a hit and run affair." To get to the customer in the first place, Mr. Shifrin believes in promotion. He advocates newspaper ads, noting that best results are obtained from a six month campaign, with at least one ad a week in the same newspaper. Raymond M. Foley, former administrator of the Housing and Home Finance agency in Washington, also has an article in Practical Builder. Mr. Foley points out that the public is becoming modernization conscious, thanks to promotion through newspapers, magazines, radio and TV, and large civic and industrial organizations. He lists three points as reasons for builders to take an interest in modernization work:

- "1. The job cries harder every year to be done by people who can do it well.
- "2. It can be made a profitable undertaking in itself.
- "3. It is a big part of the construction need to the nation, which cannot be ignored by a homebuilding industry that has come of age and to a size in keeping with maturity. "4. Doing the job will add to the community stability that creates the best market background for further new house projects."

KENTUCKY SHOWS GREAT INDUSTRIAL GROWTH IN 1954

A survey of the national school lunch program shows that the average consumption of milk in Kentucky schools is the highest in 13 north-central states, reports John B. Roberts, an economist at the University of Kentucky. Under the school milk program, milk consumption increased 69 percent in schools in the past year. The survey, reported in a publication called "Increasing Milk Consumption in Schools," found that children drink more milk in schools when milk is a part of a complete meal, when it can be bought at reasonable prices and when they can get chocolate as well as plain whole milk. The study concludes that milk consumption in schools can be increased by: (1) serving more of the complete lunches with milk; (2) serving more milk at noon where children do not get complete lunches; (3) serving milk at times other than noon; (4) removing limits on quantity per child and (5) by devising ways of getting milk to small schools. The programs on school milk are intended to improve nutri-

U. K. WINS $25,000 GRANT—Fred C. Curtis, research engineer at the University of Kentucky Aeronautical Research Laboratory, is shown with an aerial camera and testing equipment being used in a $25,000 project just started for the Air Force. U. K. engineers will develop camera testing instruments to be used in aerial photography. This grant brings to $25,000 the total of seven research contracts currently being handled by the national standards, secure wider distribution of milk as an essential food, and assist in solving dairy problems. Kentucky dairy industry as well as the children receiving additional milk, will benefit from the programs analyzed. The report points out that the benefits are local, and that support given by the school officials and faculty, and by the community itself, largely determine the extent of the success in school milk programs.

Clinton's Walker Family Makes Many Changes

UK County Agent Warren Thompson lists as follows some of the improvements made by Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Walker, Jr., of Hickman county since they enrolled in the Farm and Home Development project Extension work:

Corn production increased from 50 bushels an acre on 18 acres in 1950 to 75 bushels an acre on 30 acres; small grain production increased 50 percent; seed production, 33 percent, and hay production, 150 percent. Hog production has been increased from 11,000 pounds a year to 22,000 pounds, and beef production from 7,500 pounds to 12,000 pounds a year. By using their own labor, a three-bedroom house was built at a cost of $6,000. It has a bath, U-shaped kitchen, running water and hardwood floors.

As yet, we haven't seen a do-it-yourself operating kit.

MRS. JIM BURKE HOSTESS TO
CHESTNUT GLADE H. D. C.

Mrs. Jim Burke was hostess to the October meeting of the Chestnut Glade Home Demonstration Club Thursday.

After the president called the house to order and read the thought for the day Mrs. Burke conducted some recreation with Mrs. Jimmie Westbrook being the winner.

Mrs. Westbrook gave the devotional and prayer. Mrs. Edna Rose McNeil, Mrs. John Earl Hazelwood and Mrs. Burnette Ross were welcomed as visitors.

During the business session Mrs. Milburn Connor and Mrs. Jim Burke reported the Christmas preview at Dresden a grand success having many gift ideas on display. A donation was made to the Red Cross Chairman for the benefit of the veterans hospital in Memphis.

After project leaders present made reports, Miss Odum displayed and gave patterns for many lovely and useful gifts and decoration ideas.

Mrs. Burke served delicious fruit cake and punch for refreshments.

The November meeting will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cleatus Reams the third Thursday. Members should be there and visitors are invited.

BENNETT HOMEMAKERS HONOR MRS. COLTER

The Bennett Homemakers held a work day Friday in the home of Mrs. L. P. Carney. Planters of copper and brass were tooled and waste baskets of copper and reed were made. Four planters and two waste baskets were made.

At noon the ladies were invited into the dining room where the center-piece on the dining table was formed of decorated cup cakes, each holding a burning candle, shaped into the number 80, in honor of Mrs. H. A. Colter, who will celebrate her 80th birthday Nov. 1.

The birthday celebration was quite a surprise to the honored.

BY CRUTCHFIELD
HOMEMAKERS NOV. 18

The Crutchfield Homemakers at their regular meeting really enjoyed the major project lesson on Property Rights, which was presented by the leaders, Mrs. Clyde Corum and Mrs. Hershel Brown.

Plans were made to have a play party at the Lodgston Community House on the night of Nov. 18 for the purpose of making money for a farm and Home Week delegate. It will begin at 7 p. m. Admission will be 10 cents for adults and five cents for children. Homemade candy, hot dogs and drinks will be sold and there will be a door prize given away. Tickets will be sold on a turkey to be given away that night also.

The traveling basket was drawn by Mrs. Henry Sams. Mrs. Roy Milton Taylor conducted a quiz game and an active game, "Coin Pick Up," which the ladies enjoyed. They also sang "The Keeper" and "My Old Kentucky Home."

On Sunday night, Nov. 6, the First Methodist Church will present the Memphis Navy Chorus, a 65 voice choir composed of Navy Men. Sterling Granger will direct the Choir and Mrs. Granger will accompany them on the organ. Mr. and Mrs. Granger are graduates of Westminster Choir College of Princeton, N. J. in the class of 1952.

Memphis Navy Chorus was organized 3 years ago and is composed of full time students from the Training Schools. The "A" School trains the men in Aviation Electronics. The "D" "A" men are trained in Aviation Training Devices to form the core of instructors in the Navy. The "AD" "A" men are trained to service and repair the complicated engines used in modern day Aviation. The "AM" "A" students are taught the mechanics of aircraft structure and are thus qualified to rebuild our modern day airplanes, when and if necessary.

The following is a schedule of the program:

Senator Alben Barkley, delighted his audience with many laugh-provoking incidents, but he also injected into his talk serious notes stressing the importance of a big Democratic majority from the First District on election day. Beauchamp was a staunch supporter of Judge Bert T. Combs, the Administration-backed candidate, in the August primaries.

Beauchamp said: "Our side lost the election in August, but had we won, we would have expected the support of the Chandler forces in the November election."

Congressman Gregory also urged a big vote next Tuesday and said that the Republican party was running without a

Leisurely Shop Our Store Friday Nights

Of course you want confirmation before you buy something for your home !

How many times have you, Mr. Husband, said "I just wouldn't think of buying that for our home without my wife seeing it."

Mrs. Housewife, no doubt you have stated many times, "I like that but I just wouldn't buy it without my husband seeing it."

We know that a major purchase for the home is not an everyday purchase. It deserves consideration and the wholehearted approval of the members of the family.

Unfortunately it isn't possible for the man and wife to shop together in the day time, and it is difficult for the two of them to ever shop together . . . this we realize and here is what we have done about it . . .

Our store will be open each Friday from 8:30 in the morning until 8:30 in the evening.

Now you can shop leisurely with your husband and friends. Come in and without hurry or scurry look over our selection from the world's largest and best manufacturers . . . the newest and finest in Home Furnishings and Floor coverings. No high pressure will be applied to your visit and you will not be obligated to buy, just come in and talk and look to your hearts content. We will be glad to talk over your Home Furnishings problems and offer any help we may.

We are cooperating with other merchants of our town in Lucky Friday. Register at our store. You may be the lucky person.

Health Center

The public health nurse's uniform is the symbol of help. As she enters into daily activities in Fulton County, you meet her in prenatal clinics and parents' classes, in civic meetings, home visits and school visits.

The public health nurse for the Fulton County Health Department, Miss Heinline, becomes familiar with the problems of people in your community and can give the benefit of her guidance and counsel.

The variety of services and situations in her public health job involve nutrition, prenatal and child care, school health, tuberculosis control, communicable disease control, sanitation and a large-sized sampling of the entire public health field. Miss Heinline may make a home visit to assist with the care of an active case of tuberculosis. At the same time she will give guidance on ways to protect all family members from this communicable disease, and may suggest they obtain chest x-rays.

Public health education is a part of public health nursing too. When immunizing a young child the nurse discusses with the parents when booster shots should be given and why the shots are necessary. In clinics

BAPTIST CHURCH PLANNING WIDE BUILDING PROGRAM

Members of the First Baptist Church are jubilant over the building program approved this week at the church, which will provide for an educational building and an addition to the present auditorium.

Dr. W. M. Blankenship, chairman of the committee that recommended the building program said that approximately $140,000 will be expended over a several months' period.

Increased activity and a growing membership in the church has made the building program necessary, church leaders advised Rev. John Laidi is the popular pastor of the church.

FARM BUREAU IN SUPPORT OF TAX FOR HEALTH CENTER

Board Urges Voters To Vote "Yes" On Issue

Leading farmers of Fulton County have taken recognition of the importance of the health tax to be voted on in the General Election. In a letter to the editor of the News, their support of that issue was made. The letter follows:

"As president of the Fulton County Farm Bureau, we wish to state that our local organization, through its Board of Officers and Directors, has unanimously voted to support the public health tax for Fulton County.

"We wish to urge every voter in Fulton County to go to the polls Nov. 8 and vote 'Yes' for public health. We wish, also, to offer our services to help in any possible way, the passage of the public health tax in our county.

"We think everyone is aware of the excellent services rendered to the people of our county by our Fulton County Health Department. It is, therefore, up to each of us to do all in our power for its support. This you can do by voting 'Yes' for the public health tax on Nov. 8.

Jas A. Willingham, President, Fulton County Farm Bureau."

MRS. NUGENT DIES TUESDAY AFTER 2 WEEKS ILLNESS

Mrs. Fannie Nugent passed away Tuesday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock at Jones Hospital after a two weeks' illness.

She was born March 28, 1880, the daughter of John R. and Margaret Ann Howell in Fulton County, Kentucky, where she spent her entire life. She was married to John W. Nugent and to this union three children were born. One daughter passed away in early youth. Her husband preceded her in death in 1908.

Mrs. Nugent was a member of the Central Church of Christ in Fulton where services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock conducted by Brother Don Kester. Burial will be in Rock Spring Cemetery under the direction of Hornbeak Funeral Home.

Mrs. Nugent possessed such personal charm and christian character that she endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. She is survived by one son, Virgil Nugent of Detroit, a daughter, Mrs. Mary Newberry of Crutcheville, a brother, Luther Veatch of Crutcheville, two grandsons and a number of other relatives and friends.

The body will remain at the Hornbeak Funeral Home until time for services.

Black And White Expands Again; Adds Furniture, Gifts

Black and White Store in Union City announced this week its fifth major expansion move in adding as a new "annex" the building recently occupied by the C. V. Jones furniture Company.

The new annex, located next door to the present Black and White quarters, will house the toyland, housewares, furniture, and gift departments, and can be reached through the main entrance of the store proper. The new departments will occupy the main floor and mezzanine floor.

turned over to the juvenile court for infraction of the laws, rather than be tried under terms of the Military Code, Assistant Attorney General Walter C. Herdman ruled in interpreting conflicting sections of the law. Herdman held that general provisions of the law must yield to specific sections in event of apparent conflict, and that the General Assembly has granted juvenile courts exclusive jurisdiction of offenses by a minor, and that the National Guard should yield control of offenses against the military code to juvenile authorities.

In January, 1956, the second session of the 84th Congress will convene in Washington, D. C. and America's legislative "New Year" will begin. It will be the time for representatives to keep their legislative "New Year's Resolutions." Of them all none is more important than the solemn one to meet the Nation's farm problem and we are resolved to meet that problem with a balanced, creative program of legislation.

During the adjournment period we are seeking to improve our understanding of the anatomy of the farm problem. For example, the Senate Committee on Agriculture is conducting a series of hearings throughout the Nation in order that those of us who are members of that Committee may have the "grass roots" testimony of individual farmers and agricultural groups to guide us in the preparation of a legislative program in the new year.

Testimony at these hearings will help to give us an "in-person" interpretation of the statistics with which we are familiar: The alarming drop in farm income from 14.3 billions in 1952 to less than 11 billions today; the reduction in the farmer's share of the consumer dollar from 52 to 42 cents; the drop in parity from 100 percent to 84.3 percent, and the fact that farmers who received 10.3 percent of the national in 1947 are today receiving six percent.

To many farmers these statistics mean a drop of as much as twenty percent in their net income—the returns from their labor.

The problems confronting our farmer today are more than the problems of one particular group in our economy for what affects the farmer in some way

Party Snack For Fall

A cool weather suggestion for dessert or a party snack is baked apples served with doughnuts. Plump, juicy baked apples combine nicely with cake quality doughnuts, and they're simple to prepare. Fresh, packaged, doughnuts are available, made from a home-type cook book recipe, at your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. Here's our recipe for baked apples.

Baked Apples

Wash and core large, firm baking apples. Place in a baking dish. Spoon sugar into center of each apple. Top with butter. Heat 1 cup water and 1/2 cup red cinnamon candies until candy dissolves. Pour around apple and bake in moderate oven (350°) 45 to 60 minutes or until tender. Spoon syrup over apples and serve warm or cold.

affects us all.

Here in the Commonwealth of Kentucky I have endeavored to avail myself of the counsel of various individuals and groups through meetings at which different aspects of the problem were discussed and solutions considered.

But time and space necessarily limit the number of such meetings. It is for that reason that I should like to avail myself of the opportunity provided by this newspaper and ask the reader how he feels about the key question of farm price supports—the "fixed" price support program versus the so-called "flexible" price support program.

Both programs have their exponents and their critics. From your own standpoint, which one would you prefer your government to operate.

Any comment you would care to make would be genuinely helpful to me and to the other members of the Senate Committee on Agriculture. Your remarks on either a postcard, or contained in a letter addressed to me in care of the Senate Office Building will be appreciated.

KEA GROUPS HITS SNAG FOR MEETING IN BIG ARMORY

Plans of the Kentucky Education Assn. to hold its annual convention in the Armory next April 11-13 hit a snag last week.

The annual Kentuckiana Home Show will be held there on those dates.

J. Marvin Dodson, KEA executive secretary, said Herman Penn, former manager of the Armory, had assured him the place would be available.

Charles Graviss, who succeeded Penn recently, said the change-over in manager caused a mixup. He said he would be unable to void the home show contract.

The Armory had been chosen as the convention site after hundreds of the 7,000 teachers attending last spring's convention were turned away from the inadequate Memorial Auditorium. There was talk at that time of moving the convention away from Louisville, but KEA directors voted to keep it here.

Dodson said the only alternative he could suggest would be to split up the convention, holding sessions at both the auditorium and at a church or school.

Trustees of the University of Kentucky last week accepted gifts to the school totaling $11,717. Also received were 100 shares of stock, two mineral deeds, and a watercolor painting.

● Chestnut Glade News (By Mrs. Harvey Vaughan)

The Halloween Carnival was a big success. The candidates for King and Queen never were more charming. As last year the first and second grades were far ahead from the first. The seventh and 8th grades were represented by Ronald Mac Coffman and Alice Emery. The 5th and 6th by Dale Williams and Carla Faye Brundige. The 3rd and 4th grades by Charles Dennis Bruner and Fairra Maude Finch 1st and 2nd grades by Lorry Parrish and Linda Kay Nanney who were crowned as the 1955-56 King and Queen by the 1954 and 55 King and Queen Gary Jones and Paula Nanney. Mrs. Mary Cook from McConnell was the lucky winner of the steam iron. Linda Kay Nanney received the record player for selling the most votes. She sold 400.

James Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Lee Simpson spent the week-end in Lansing, Mich.

Mrs. Lucy Gibbs is spending a few days in Memphis visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Milan. Frank is improving from the severe heart attack at the Baptist Hospital where he has been a patient for the past two weeks.

The many friends of Mrs. John Colley regret that she was taken suddenly and seriously sick last Thursday. She seems to be improving at Jones Hospital where she is a patient.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barker spent last week-end in St. Louis where all the ten Barker children met to be with their mother on her birthday.

Mrs. Harry Gordon Barker spent last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barker.

● AUSTIN SPRINGS Mrs. Carey Fields

Leslie Burton, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton, has most fully recovered from a foot injury, the results of a portion of a splinter which was removed several days ago.

Rev. Dempsey Henderson filled his regular appointment at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday at 11 a. m. and the evening services at 7:30.

Mr. J. W. Bynum is a victim of a deep seige of cold, requiring some medical care.

It is with regret that the community is losing Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Poyner, who recently sold their farm in this district and bought a house in Lynnville, Ky. Mr. Ruben Grubbs is the successful buyer who already owns the late L. A. Donoho farm and plans more extensive farming for next year. The Poyner family have resided here a number of years and are active members of Mt. Vernon Methodist Church.

Mrs. Dave Mathis is improving at her home in this village. She has been a-bed a portion of the time, victim of hypertension.

Doyle Fields and Joe Mansfield spent Wednesday at Kentucky Lake in a day's fishing outing. These fellows are employed at Carbon Carbide Chemical Co. of Paducah.

The potato harvest got well under way the past week, and Messrs. Roy Puckett, Rubel Thomas and Raymond Cherry report to have their crops on market. Much of the early corn has been gathered both by hand and machine, but late corn remains in the fields, due to too much moisture.

SOUTH FULTON SCHOOL NEWS

by Martha Weeks

Hi! Hope everyone is in high spirits today. The Red Devils played the Tiptonville Earthquakes last Thursday night at Memorial Stadium. The Earthquakes went home triumphant with a 13-6 win over us. The Student Council was elected last week. These students are: Murray Clark, Nina Thomas, Max Richards, Joan Toone, Betty Faye Peoples, Morgan Fields, Kenneth Burcham and Martha Weeks.

Guynell Payne held a party at her home last Saturday night. Several Freshmen attended along with Sophomores and Juniors.

A large pep rally was given last Thursday afternoon. The Junior that sold the most subscriptions during their magazine drive received their certificates of recognition at this assembly. The cheerleaders taught the student body some new yells.

At another assembly Brother Laid of the First Baptist Church introduced Mr. and Mrs. Al Walsh, and Rev. Miller. Mrs. Walsh sang a beautiful solo, then was joined by her husband in a duet. The faculty had their pictures taken Friday.

Everyone is looking forward to the coming week. Basketball suits will be given out by coach Phipps.

The Junior and Senior 4-H Club met Oct. 20. The meeting was called to order by our leader Mrs. Betty Carpenter. "Record Books," was the topic that was discussed.

Officers were elected: President, Jane Peoples; vice president, Lena Moss; secretary and treasurer, Peggy Wilhaucks; sergeant-at-arms, Marie Hardy; reporter, Martha Weeks; Recreation chairman, Guyenelle Payne and her assistants, Alma Green and Beverly Lucwell. Song leader was not elected. The members are going to make this club one to be proud of.

The ninth grade F. H. A. meeting was held Oct. 24. President, Gayle Hays, called the meeting to order. Secretary, Lutrecia Bennett read the minutes. After they were approved, treasurer, Ruth Pruitt, read her report. The rummage sale was discussed. Around $1200 was made on this sale. The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Jessie Gamblin. A quiz on foreign countries was enjoyed by the girls. Guynell Payne and Jessie Weems did a charade. The meeting was then adjourned.

Reporter, Martha Weeks

Howdy. Looks like everyone enjoyed Halloween. There ought to be a law about putting gasoline on store windows, you just mark as hard as you can but the gas repels the soap. Oh well, there's still flour to smear on the windows. Someone smeared my face, hair and eyes full of flour.

Well, that's enough of that, let's talk about South Fulton for a while.

There was no football game last week, but the one this Friday is the one the whole town has been looking forward to. South Fulton vs Fulton High.

Jerry Weems gave a party Friday night. Several freshmen attended. Games were played and refreshments were served.

Gail Moss had a birthday party at her home Nov. 2. Several Sophomores were there. Gail received many nice gifts.

All the basketball suits of the girls' team have been given out but one. Who will be the lucky girl?

Seems that some of the goblins visited South Fulton School on Halloween. I wonder who they are.

The speech class has been practicing on a play the past few weeks. Looks like it will be a good one.

Christian Science

The lesson-sermon on the subject "Adam and Fallen Man" will include the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the man "which had a spirit of an unclean devil" as recorded in Luke 4.

MEMPHIS FIRM IS LOW BIDDER ON MURRAY CONTRACT

O'Brien & Padgett, Memphis, Tenn., submitted the apparent lowest base bid last Thursday for construction of a girls' dormitory at Murray State College with a $926,000 offer.

Reporting this, W. T. Judy, executive director of the State Property & Buildings Commission, said Henry A. Stiehlberg, Louisville, submitted the apparent lowest bid of $42,900 for construction of a Nelson County Health Center at Bardonia.

He added that the Home Appliance Co. Prestonburg, was apparent lowest on construction of a Floyd County Health Center at Prestonburg with a $105,970 bid.

Judy said the lowest bids on the Murray and Bardonia projects, to be finally determined by further tabulation, probably would be accepted. He added bids on the Prestonsburg structure exceeded expected cost and would be rejected.

FULTON HOMEMAKERS PLAN WORK DAY FOR NOVEMBER 9

Mrs. G. C. Richardson and Mrs. Robert Holland gave the Fulton Homemakers something to think about Wednesday, when the club met in regular monthly session. Many tricky points of Kentucky laws were discussed and graphs were used to illustrate the lesson. Time, worry and money may be saved by using precaution in all legal transactions.

Mrs. Aubrey Bondurant was a visitor. "Am I a good neighbor?" This was the subject of the reading lesson by Mrs. Harry Allison. Mrs. Jack Allen reviewed the goals of the membership chairman. The citizenship goals were read by Mrs. J. B. Rafferty. Mrs. McLeod, home agent, discussed the proposed tax for health measures. She urged everyone to "vote as you please, but please vote."

An order for aluminum discs was made and the work day set for Wednesday, Nov. 9. Mrs. Edgar Provine led recreation.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS INVITED TO WRITE ESSAYS ON 'EMPLOY THE HANDICAPPED'

Essay and poster contests are open to eleventh and twelfth grade pupils in any public or private high school on the topic "Independence for the Handicapped Through Employment" were announced by the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

The committee, headed by L. P. Jones, chairman, and Homer W. Nichols, executive secretary, both employees of the Department of Economic Security, is co-operating with a similar President's Committee and public and private agencies, in efforts to promote the employment of handicapped persons.

School pupils have until Feb. 1 to complete their essays on the subject and to compete for prizes at both national and state levels.

The state first prize essay will be forwarded to Washington where it will be judged. National prize of $1,000, $400, $300 and $100 will be awarded first, second, third, fourth and fifth place essays.

The Governor's Committee will offer prizes for winners in the essay contest in the state — a $100 U. S. Savings Bond to the first prize winner, $75 in bonds to the second, a $50 bond to the third and a $25 bond to fourth prize winner.

The essays are to be between 1,000 and 1,200 words, typed double space on 8 1/2 by 11 inch white paper, and must include the student's name, home and school address and his English teacher's signature on a cover sheet.

The poster contest will be conducted through local employment offices of the Department of Economic Security in schools offering courses in art, with local entries judged in the district employment offices by a local committee and representatives of participating civic organizations.

State poster prizes will be a $50 savings bond for first place, a $25 bond for second place and $10 in cash for third. Prizes will be given by the Daniel Boone Post No. 1, Amvets, Louisville. The essay contest committee is headed by Supt. of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler, and Director of Vocational Rehabilitation, W. Hickman Baldree of the State Department of Education. It includes these members: The Right Rev. Felix N. Pitt, secretary Catholic School Board of Louisville; Victor Portman, secretary Kentucky Press Association, Lexington; Kenneth Patterson, director of Veterans' Rehabilitation of Veterans' Administration, Louisville, and Mrs. S. H. Flowers, president of Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

The poster contest committee has Mancel J. Vinson, director of Marketing in the State Department of Agriculture as chairman. Serving also are O. I. Burkeen, manager Lexington

Employment Service; Mrs. Ida Denes, counselor, Louisville Employment Service office; J. A. Robertson, manager Owensboro Employment Service office and Joseph H. Hart, The Courier-Journal, Louisville

Almost 1,000 wooden trays for refinishing have been ordered and worked on by members of homemakers clubs in Webster county the past year.

Dear Mr. Farmer.....

By now you are gathering your corn . . . may have most of it in. You probably have been thinking how best you can utilize this grain in your dairy ration.

The Fulton Mobile Milling Company (you have probably seen our mobile feed-u-nit) are equipped to grind and mix your home-grown grains and roughages with protein supplements that will give you the lowest cost-per-pound-of-milk produced. We have suggested formulas developed by the Larro research roughages . . . or . . . you can use your own formula if you desire to do so.

But whatever formula you use . . . why not utilize our new service and have it made right on your own farm, and save yourself the time and inconvenience of having to haul it away and back? You also save the feed wastage involved in hauling.

We are also prepared to mix your hog rations and your poultry rations, and we carry a complete line of Larro Surefeeds and mill feeds.

We also have Larro Sure-Raise. This is a pre-starter for your baby calves and requires only 25 pounds per calf. This starter was developed by the Larro research farm to help dairymen produce more profitable calves for their milking herd.

We want to serve you. Call us Today.

1600 Farmers Will Go To Farm Bureau Meeting At Louisville

More than 1,600 farmers will stream into Louisville for the 36th annual Farm Bureau convention on Nov. 13. The meeting is one of Louisville's largest.

During the three-day convention delegates from each of the 114 county Farm Bureaus will vote on resolutions, discuss farm commodities, listen to speakers and participate in entertainment, said I. S. Wood, who is the Farm Bureau staff member in charge of the convention.

The meeting is held yearly to elect new officers, replace retiring directors and to decide upon the Kentucky Farm Bureau's program of work for the coming year.

A series of meetings to discuss farm commodities will be held on Nov. 14. Discussions are planned for livestock, dairying, poultry, commercial crops and tobacco.

Four outstanding speakers will appear on the program. They are Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, Jr., dean of the School of American Studies, Harding College, Searcy, Ark.; Frank Woolley, legislative council for the American Farm Bureau Federation; Dr. Frank J. Welch, dean and director of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics; and Mrs. Charles DeShazo, Paul's Cross Roads, Va., former president of the Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau.

The King and Queen contest, conducted by the KFB Women's Department under the supervision of Mrs. Thomas E. Roberts will be another feature of the program for Nov. 14.

The Rural Youth Talk Meet winner will be selected on the night of Nov. 15, announces Warren K. Dulin, director of the Young People's Department of the Farm Bureau. A Talent Hunt featuring outstanding acts will also be a part of the program.

This year a new youth activity has been added to the program. It is the Young People's Conference which will be held on Nov. 14.

A vesper service and mass singing of the State Farm Bureau Chorus will feature the Sunday evening program opening the three-day convention. Directing the chorus will be Marvin D. Myers, assistant in Agricultural Extension Music for Indiana.

FACTORY ASSURED FOR GROWING CITY

Ground-breaking and welcoming ceremonies for the new Clinton Garment Manufacturing Co. will be held in Clinton Thursday.

The event will be marked by a county-wide celebration, with the public asked to meet on court square at 2 p. m. and march to the building site on Moss Ave.

The Hickman County School band will participate in the program.

Two representatives of the northern manufacturer which will operate the factory are scheduled to arrive here Wednesday to make preliminary arrangements.

They will sign a contract for operation of the plant with the Clinton Development Foundation as part of the program on Thursday.

A contract is expected to be signed immediately following the Sowell Construction Co., of Memphis, to erect the building. It will have a minimum of 20,000 square feet and a maximum of 40,000 square feet of floor space, depending on the amount of money available.

Shares are now being sold in the Foundation for $25 each.

The Foundation also announced that the manufacturer is shipping machinery from New York on Monday. The machines will be set up in the Taylor building on US 51 south of Clinton for use in training workers.

Name of the company which will operate the plant has not been announced.

Remember To Water Evergreen Plants

Plants that hold their leaves from season to season are called evergreens. Some amateur gardeners fail to water the evergreens during the fall and winter. Since they retain their foliage, they require adequate water the year round. Water damage to evergreens may not show up until the following spring or summer.

Bob Wilson of the American Dairy Association discussed sales promotion at the Nicholas County Artificial Breeding Association.

WALLACE OPPOSES CANCELLATION OF TWO STATE HUNTING-FISHING AGREEMENTS

The cancellation of the reciprocal agreement between Kentucky and Tennessee regarding fishing and hunting in a section of Kentucky Lake was opposed by Earl Wallace, commissioner of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, the commissioner said today. He pointed out that the objection to the hunting phase of the agreement, which resulted in the cancellation of the whole agreement by the Tennessee Commission, was raised by dock operators in the affected area in Kentucky, and that these objectors obtained the consent of the Kentucky Commission to request the elimination of the hunting phase of the agreement.

When this order of the Commission was carried out by Mr. Wallace and was presented to the Tennessee Commission by Hadden Olds, former director of the Tennessee Fish and Wildlife Agency, the Tennessee Commission feeling that Tennesseans were getting the worst of the agreement, cancelled the whole reciprocal agreement as it affected both hunting and fishing. Since the cancellation of the agreement, Kentuckians who fish or hunt in the Tennessee section must have Tennessee licenses and abide by Tennessee creel, size and bag limits. The same works for Tennesseans who hunt or fish in the Kentucky section.

Mr. Wallace pointed out that reciprocal agreements have been honored by both Kentucky and Tennessee for several years as a service to the sportsmen. He declared that exact boundary lines are hard to define and as a protection for both Tennesseans and Kentuckians who fished or hunted this borderline area, the agreements were drawn up. A similar agreement on Dale Hollow was not affected by the cancellation of the Kentucky Lake area agreement.

GRAVES VOTERS OFFERED PRIZES BY MERCHANTS

Mayfield businessmen are offering a list of imposing prizes to get Graves Countians to turn out to vote in the Nov. 8 general election.

Everyone who votes in the election, the announcement said, will receive a chance on merchandise awards. The chances go to all voters regardless of party affiliations.

Prizes are being offered in three other Kentucky counties. Knox County voters in 50 precincts were told they'd be given a chance on 50 turkeys when they cast their ballots.

A 1956 automobile will be given a lucky voter in Henderson county and Woodford voters will be given a chance on a $400 food freezer.

Graves County Democrats staged a rally at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Circuit Court room. Sen. Alben W. Barkley and Harry Lee Waterfield, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, were the speakers.

"Father," said young William, "I've decided to become a detective. Right now I'm practicing the art of detection. Let me give you an example. In our back yard there is a large pile of ashes. By deduction that is evidence that we've had fires going all winter."

"Very good," rejoined father. "Suppose you go out and sift the evidence."

The News writes social happenings about you and our friends.

We've had some interesting mail this past week that we thought perhaps you'd be interested in. The most curious one came from a chap by the name of Kenneth Riddle of Southern Motor Cargo in Memphis. We never heard of Kenneth, but that's not all. Kenneth himself is more than a little confused. Kenneth addressed a letter to Donald Murray of the Fulton Journal, and as far as we know there is not now, nor ever has

We enjoyed having Pierre as a guest in our home and especially were we impressed with him, when, as a parting gift he presented us with a bottle of real, honest goodness, French perfume Chanel No. 5.

Another letter came from Wilma Burger (Elsie Weeks' sister) of Oklahoma City, Okla. Perhaps you have been reading of the newspaper workers strike that has inconvenienced the operations of the Daily Oklahoman, where Wilma's husband, Ben is State editor. On Wilma's all too infrequent visits here we have a wonderful time "talking shop" but we're afraid that Wilma is taking a dim view of such goings on in the journa-

Age brings us to the right interesting conversation we indulged in at the City Drug Store this week. Mac McDaniel, Gladys Hyland and this reporter were bemoaning the mad whirl we all live in and Mac said that he's "roughing" it while daughter Susan goes Margaret Hall entertained her daughter, Sara Jane, with a birthday party Oct. 27 on Sara Jane's tenth birthday.

There were twenty guests present. They played games and the winners were Doty Hogan and Judy Owen. The dining room was gaily decorated with Halloween colors. The lovely cake was chocolate with the decoration of a pumpkin face. Delicious refreshments were served. Sara Jane received many nice gifts.

Happy birthday, Sara Jane!

Whatever Your Political Preferences Be Sure That You Exercise Your Right To Vote Tuesday

Next Tuesday, November 8, is general election day in Kentucky. It is a day when Mr. Average Citizen is a VIP (very important person) for in his hands rests the responsibility for good, bad or indifferent Government in this State.

The ballot that will be handed to the voter on election day is a long and detailed one. As a matter of fact it is one of the longest ones we've ever seen since we've voted in Kentucky. It deserves your careful and earnest consideration.

Claiming chief interest on the ballot, for most voters, will be the selection of a Governor and lieutenant Governor for the Democratic and Republican parties. Also on the ballot are candidates for other state offices of both parties and a smattering of candidates for the Free Citizens Party and the Prohibition party. The two latter parties will claim little interest in Fulton County, or over the State for that matter, but consistent with our Democratic form of Government, all people are entitled to seek the opportunity to serve their country as they wish.

Here in Fulton County the Democratic party alone is making any real attempt to get their candidates elected. With less than 1000 registered Republicans in the county, that party has made little attempt to interest voters in their gubernatorial candidate Ed Denney, or in the races for the other offices on the ballot.

Fulton County will undoubtedly give the Democratic nominees the majority of the votes cast on election day. But the size or the amount of the majority seems an unknown quantity. Following the recent bitter primary, when local political leaders entered wholeheartedly into a right lively campaign, an apathy descended upon the voters, which is just now being overcome. It is not very easy to determine whether the bitterness engendered in that campaign is forgotten. Supporters of defeated candidate Judge Bert T. Combs were most enthusiastic in that support. Supporters of Happy Chandler were equally as enthusiastic. The victory for Judge Combs in this county, even by five votes, was something of an upset in State-wide political circles since the Chandler camp had counted on victory here by nearly 700 votes.

But be that as it may, that was nearly three months ago. It is hard to tell whether primary bitterness has been replaced by party loyalty. Only the outcome of the election on next Tuesday can tell.

Predominantly Democratic Fulton Countians have two important issues to consider when they go to the polls on next Tuesday and contemplate the Governor's race.

One is that enough candidates have been assured election in both the Kentucky House and Senate to make those legislative bodies predominately Democratic. That is a certainty.

The other is that West Kentucky's Harry Lee Waterfield, if elected, will be the first lieutenant-Governor ever to be elected from the First District. The election of Mr. Waterfield is a certainty of course, and that possibility should be encouraging to all of us. For, a competent lieutenant-Governor (and Harry Lee surely will be) has an enviable opportunity to be Governor. Barring any unforeseen circumstances Harry Lee should be Governor in four years and if so another "first" will come about. He will be the first Governor ever to be elected from the 1st District. While most Governor's claim that their interest in State Government is the same from Madrid Bend to the Breaks of Sandy, it is apropos to say that a man's heart is where his home is and Harry Lee's home is right next door to us.

Whatever will be your selections on the ballot next Tuesday we urge you to be sure and exercise your privilege to make those selections by going to the polls. Don't fail in your responsibility to your community and to your State by staying away from the polls. Voting is also a responsibility you owe to yourself so that you may feel a part of the Governor that guides your every day life.

Automobile Insurance Should Be National Law

Despite the number of various laws in the various states requiring motorists to carry insurance or providing stiff penalties against those who do not, in most of the states in the Union irresponsible motorists are still causing heavy human and physical damage, without having to compensate for their acts.

Since most motorists drive through a number of states over a period of time, the problem is almost a national one. Although the effort to require motorists to carry insurance is supported by a large and growing number of people, the various states have not yet come up with a solution and therefore, the highways are filled with irresponsible drivers, who do not have the financial means to compensate for the destruction they may at any time cause.

This is a problem which should be solved because it can be solved. If the various state legislatures do not wish to pass laws requiring motorists to carry insurance, then they should pass some sort of law which would protect the victim of the irresponsible motorists.

There is no reason why any citizen should be allowed to take to the highway with a machine which might cause both death and destruction, in irresponsible hands, when he has neither the means nor the insurance to compensate for destruction which he might cause.

Charity Loves All That God Loves

by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen
AMERICA'S GREATEST enemy is not from without, but from within, and that enemy is hate: hatred of races, peoples, classes, and religions. If America ever dies, it will not be through conquest, but through suicide.

Tolerance pleas will not remedy this, for why should any creature on God's earth be merely tolerated? Hate can be eradicated only by creating a new focus, and that is possible only by charity.

BY CHARITY we do not mean kindness, philanthropy, generosity, or big-heartedness, but a supernatural gift of God by which we are enabled to love Him above all things for His own sake, and in that love, to love all that He loves.

The essential quality of charity to be noted is that it resides in the will, not in the emotions or passions or senses. In other words, charity does not mean to like, but to love. Liking is in the feelings or emotions; loving is in the will.

A LITTLE BOY cannot help disliking spinach, as perhaps you cannot help disliking sauerkraut, and I cannot help disliking chicken. The same is true of your reactions to certain people. You cannot help feeling an emotional reaction against the egotistical, the sophisticated, and the loud, or those who run for the first seats, or those who snore in their sleep.

But though you cannot like everyone because you have no control over your physiological reactions, you can love everyone in the divine sense, for love, being in the will, can be commanded. As Our Lord said: "A new commandment I give unto you: that you love one another and have loved you."

OUTWARDLY, your neighbor may be very unlikely; but inwardly he is one in whom the image of God can be created by the kiss of charity. You can like only those who like you, but you can love those who dislike you.

You can go through life liking those who like you without the love of God. Humanism is sufficient for those of our set, or for those who like to go slumming from ivory towers, but it is not enough to make us love those who apparently are not worth loving.

TO WILL TO BE KIND when your emotions are unkind requires a stronger dynamic than "love of humanity." To love them, we must recall that we who are not worth loving are loved by Love Himself.

STRICTLY BUSINESS

by McFeatters

"Here are the results—112 'for', 87 'against', 23 'no opinion' and 1 'none of your darnfool business!'."

Just in case you haven't consulted your calendar lately, there are only three more railroad pay-days until Christmas—only eight more week-ends—only 44 more shopping days until December 25, which will be on a Sunday this year.

With practically all the new 1956 auto models unveiled except Nash (coming the latter part of the month) the public is deluged with a lot of new things right now, but in the mad scramble something has been overlooked.

It isn't a massive thing like an automobile. . . it isn't a shiny thing like a new TV set. . . in fact it is a very small little gadget that can be carried with one finger of one hand.

What we refer to is the 1956 model of the cat-fish rod, now on display at the Coffee Shop. Elvis Babb fondly points to its new features, which include a stand that sticks in the ground or ear-lock of your boat to hold it in an upright position, a good-sized hook on the end of it to haul in your catch in the absence of a dip net, and a little bell on a spring that tinkles whenever a fish grabs the bait.

Babb swears that it will catch more catfish than Dutch Owen's radar method.

Although this news is now a couple of weeks old, we understand that Jack Foy has suffered several heart attacks in Hollywood recently and is now hospitalized there. . . and we hope at this writing that the old guitar-plucker is out of danger. Address is Veteran's Hospital, Hollywood, California.

In talking to Harry Fields DeZonia last week-end we discovered that a good dance-orchestra is nothing new for Fulton. . . old trumpet player DeZonia told us all about another orchestra that flourished here 20 years ago and was in good demand throughout the area.

Even so, the Melody Men aren't doing bad: next week they are playing a deluxe affair at the Fort Campbell Officer's Club and another at the Fulton Country Club, and have bookings for a gigantic party at Milan, Tenn. in December, as well as others at Fulton, Hickman and Union City in addition to their regular weekly engagement at the Union City VFW.

What do manufacturers feel would be the effects of a so-called "guaranteed annual wage" widely imposed throughout all industry?

The National Association of Manufacturers recently held a workshop, attended by representatives of hundreds of companies, on this problem in New York City. The answers to a questionnaire presented there should be studied by everyone.

1 52% of the 279 companies answering said the number of jobs in their business would be reduced by a GAW program.

2 52% said expansion in their firms would be discouraged.

3 19% said new product development would be discouraged.

4 28% said the obtaining of new capital would be discouraged.

5 61% said plans for general business expansion would probably be deterred.

With the above percentages in mind, it seems appropriate to quote the following from a recent newsletter to The First National City Bank of New York:

"At the same time it must be frankly recognized that the door has been opened to a continuing movement toward GAW, toward full pay for idle men, mounting financial costs, and shrinking inducements to work. . . Giving away money without corrupting the recipient is an ancient moral problem. A productive country can afford generous aids to people in adversity."

"Prosperity does not come from well-paid idleness. Money is worthless unless people will work to earn it. These are things we must never forget as we consider where the trail of GAW leads."

TURNING BACK THE CLOCK

Dec. 12, 1930

The Woman's Club met in regular session at the Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon. Routine business was transacted with the president, Mrs. Jake Huddleston, in the chair.

The club was pleased to have as their host for the afternoon the Junior Woman's Club. They presented a delightful Christmas program. It was as follows:

Carol—"Joy to the World"—Junior and Senior Woman's Club.
Piano solo—"La Coquette," Sara Owens. Carol—"The Three Kings"—B Natural Music Club. Piano solo—"Euphie Glisson. Reading—"The Tale of a Christmas Eve"—by Ruth Nail. Piano solo—"Chopin's Valse in C Minor"—Martha Norman Lowe. Carol—"Silent Night"—B Natural Music Club. Piano solo—"In Leafy Bower"—Elva Davis.

At the conclusion of the program tea and sandwiches were served. The hostesses for the occasion were Erin Brock, Alma Huddleston and Euphie Glisson

Of Kentucky Folklore

"HOW WE SPEAK"

It amuses me to hear some people speak of Kentucky as if every person from Pike County to the Mississippi River talked the same way. To any one who has traveled a little over the state it is very obvious that our speaking varies almost as much as our geology. Some years ago I went on a camping trip across Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, and Washington without finding a variation in speech as can be found within thirty miles of Bowling Green. Many writers speak of Kentuckians as speakers of pure Elizabethan English, without the slightest idea of what Elizabethan English would sound like.

It is true that some of our areas, the mountains among them, have preserved many old words that were brought over by the early settlers, but these same words are in no sense peculiar to our mountains. Nearly every county in the state would show most of the same words. In varying numbers. Remote neighborhoods of a few years ago were likely to have kept some of these words, but they do not in any way represent a large part of the vocabulary, even of the most remote.

An occasional word of this sort usually gets far more attention than it deserves and makes some observers jump to the conclusion that all other "Elizabethan" words are to be found.

Another sort of inaccurate observer thinks that Kentucky talks a broad Southern dialect. That is fully as laughable as our Elizabethan English. It is probable that not more than ten percent of the people of the state talk what could be identified as Southern by any careful student of language.

Time and again I have heard outsiders speak of having heard such interesting Southern words or expressions or tones in Kentucky, when every illustration given would be just as valid for Indiana, Illinois, or Ohio as for Kentucky. Many times these so-called Southernisms are merely family variations in speech.

I can recall that a Fidelity there were many people who outdid some of the New Englanders in their long o's or a's. Our nearest neighbor pronounced sausage as if it were scowidge. Another neighbor hootened his f's so much that his pronunciation of dime sounded like damn. And yet both of them were just one generation away from North Carolina with no earthly knowledge of or cultural connection with New England or the Northern Middle West.

Leaving out of account mere families that may have moved into any region, we have in Kentucky some fairly well-defined speech areas, based on vocabulary and sounds. The older people of the mountains have certain sounds that are not so well known elsewhere, probably the chief thing in mountain speech is the speech pattern rather than the actual sounds. The towns along the Ohio have a speech, in general, that is approximately that of the southern parts of the states immediately north of us—Middle Western tinged with Southern.

Down below Russellville, Elkton, and Hopkinsville there is a section where most people really do speak Southern, much as it is spoken much farther south. In between the Ohio River and this "Island of the Old South" most people talk very much alike, with a little more Southern tone than is found along the Ohio, though strongly leaning toward what I call for want of a better term Southern Middle Western.

Much of the Jackson Purchase has a speech that differs considerably from the Pennyrile speech. Since I was reared down in the Purchase, I became familiar with this form of speech first of all and have long tried to figure out why it is different.

My own conclusion is that it represents North Carolina influence rather than Virginia influence, and may be more Scotch-Irish than any other Kentucky speech.

With education, travel, and the radio our differences are fast being ironed out, so that another generation will wonder why older people notice that a person from Pineville, let us say, said his words slightly differently from a person from Henderson or Bowling Green or Paducah.

With the survey of our speech that is now being carried on, it will not be too long before we can definitely say where these lines between one dialect and another can be drawn with some degree of accuracy, though such a line will never be as definite as Muldraugh's Hill or the Tennessee River.

Rating Given

Property owned by a volunteer fire department non-profit corporation is not exempt from taxation, it was held by Assistant Attorney General M. B. Holfield.

"Exemptions from taxation must be strictly construed," Holfield wrote Circuit Judge Paul J. Stapleton, Newport, and the only tax exemptions authorized are public properties owned by the public and real or personal properties owned by strictly religious, educational or charitable purposes.

"It is true that property of a volunteer fire department may be devoted to a public purpose, but unfortunately it is not owned by the public. The real estate of a volunteer fire department cannot be exempted from taxation unless it is both owned by the public and used for a public purpose."

SERVICES HELD IN HICKMAN FOR GUNSHOT VICTIM

Services were held last Thursday afternoon at 2:30 for Wayne Harris Stoker, 23, who died Tuesday night of gunshot wounds in his home in East Hickman.

The Rev. Terrin H. Cook of the First Baptist Church of Hickman officiated at the services at Barrett Funeral Home. Burial was in the city cemetery.

A coroner's jury of four men and two women at an inquest held Tuesday night by Judge Homer Roberts adjudged death to have been caused by accidental shooting.

It is believed that the victim stumbled with the gun, according to Sheriff John Rose of Hickman.

Stoker, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Stoker, with whom he lived, reportedly came home late Tuesday night from a show, took a .22 pump rifle from his house and went to the front yard where the shooting occurred.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Lusk arrived on the scene shortly after the shooting which occurred at 10:40 p. m., according to the dead man's father. Lusk said the bullet pierced Stoker's right temple above the ear.

Stoker, a graduate of Hickman High School, had been working with his father, a carpenter, and was unmarried. Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, Robert L. Stoker of Memphis, and a sister, Mrs. Russline Clifton of Memphis.

DEATHS

ELMER HAWKS

Elmer Hawks, 56, an Illinois Central Railroad employee for several years, died Saturday night, Oct. 29, at 9, in the I. C. Hospital in Paducah following a heart attack Sunday at his home.

Mr. Hawks was born Jan. 20, 1919 in Weakley County, Tenn., but had lived for many years in Riceville.

He was a member of the Riceville Methodist Church.

Mr. Hawks leaves his wife, Mrs. Edna Hawks; two step-sons, Dempsey and Lowell Barber, both of Detroit; a step-daughter, Mrs. John Vetta of Detroit; several step-grandchildren; two step-brothers, an uncle, an aunt, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at the Riceville Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. The Rev. R. L. Dotson, pastor, officiated. Burial, under direction of Whitnel Funeral Home was in Greenlee Cemetery.

MRS. E. B. JONES

Funeral services for Mrs. E. B. Jones were held Thursday afternoon, Oct. 27, at 2, at the Mittelberg Funeral Home in Webster Groves, Mo., the Rev. B. R. White, pastor of the Webster Groves Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in Park Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Jones leaves five children, Mrs. B. E. Wilkerson, Mrs. William Carter and Mrs. Leon Reid of Webster Groves, Mrs. Alex Gregus of Avenel, N. J., and Carl Smith, St. Louis; four step-children, W. C. Jones of Fulton, Howell Jones of Milburn, Mrs. Kent Burcham of Clayton, Tenn., and Edward Jones of Dallas, Tex.; three sisters, Mrs. Rosa Smith, Mrs. C. W. Looney and Mrs. Luke Moon-eyham of Fulton; nine grandchildren, five great grandchildren, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Jones lived in Fulton until the death of her husband four years ago, when she moved to Webster Groves to reside.

Obvious

While examining a class in grammar the inspector wrote a sentence on the blackboard and asked if anybody could see anything peculiar about it. After a long pause, one small boy put up his hand.

"Yes," said the inspector encouragingly, "what do you see remarkable about it?"

"Please, sir, the bad writing sir."

He's Back

"Great Gildersleeve" is back in his Summerfield home for the season and that means fun for WLW listeners every Thursday night at 8 p. m., EST, as the famed Water Commissioner is off on new adventures with his old cast of friends.

JOE SEAY

Joe Seay, a farmer of the Lynnville Community, died at the Fuller-Gilliam Hospital in Mayfield at 1 a. m., Sunday, Oct. 30, after a short illness. He was 77.

He was born July 31, 1878 near Lynnville. He was the son of the late William C. and Susan Mooney Seay.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Loretta Seay; three sons, Connie Seay of Latham, Cecil and James Seay of Lynnville; three daughters, Miss Mary Seay of Akron, Ohio, Mrs. Novice Cherry of near Dukedom and Mrs. Sherrell Wilson of Atwater, Ohio; three brothers, Will and Tom Seay of near Dukedom, and Johnnie Seay of Cuba.

He was a member of the Methodist Church at Lynnville. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 at the Lynnville Methodist Church. Burial, under direction of Jackson Brothers Funeral Home of Dukedom, was in Rhodes Cemetery.

CHAD EDWARD BOWDEN

Services for Chad Edward Bowden, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace "Hap" Bowden of Mayfield were held Friday afternoon, Oct. 28, at 2:30 at the First Christian Church in Mayfield.

The young child died at 5:30 Wednesday afternoon at the Children's Hospital, which is connected with Barnes Hospital in St. Louis. He died with a liver disease and had only been ill since Monday.

Burial was in Highland Park Cemetery in Mayfield.

Mr. Bowden, who is chief engineer and announcer at Radio Station WFUL here, and his wife, lost an infant daughter a few weeks ago.

Besides his parents, the child leaves an older brother.

Head in the Right Place

A red-faced man was struggling to change a tire, while a woman looked on. The kind-hearted motorist drew up behind the stalled car, dismounted, and said, "Pardon me, but can I be of any assistance?"

The man laid down his tire tool and taking the new arrival by the arm he walked him out of earshot of the woman.

"You certainly can help me, friend," he replied thankfully. "My wife here has a very decided view as to how this job should be done. If you will just talk to her and divert her attention until I get this tire changed, I shall be eternally grateful."
